WEDNESDAY, JAN. 21, 1911.

During the past few weeks much excitement has been caused by the discontent among the Sioux Indians of the western States. This discontent, although attributed to the Messiah craze, is probably, in great part, better accounted for by the bloodthirsty disposition of government officials. This, at least, is the opinion of General Miles, who from the official position which he occupies, ought to be able to judge in this matter. Many of these officials simply look on Indians as brutes, and that it is quite legitimate to make all possible wealth at their expense, not considering that these Indians were the original owners of the soil, and that it is by treaty that they have given up their rights. If the conditions of these treaties are not fulfilled, it is not to be wondered at that the Indians seek redress in war. When matters have progressed thus far, and a few massacres have been perpetrated, the inevitable panacea is the total extermination of the red man, not considering that such an act necessarily brings its agents infinitely below the level of the massacred. Think of a nation that calls itself civilized, standing by and permitting unobscured, the murder of a savage tribe that has been driven to desperation by the dishonesty of its public officials. While much discontent prevails among the Indians of the western States, we are glad to be able to state authoritatively, that no discontent exists among the Indians of Canada. All the reserves have recently been visited, and the Indian Commissioner has just informed us that all is quietness. The report that there was disturbance at Deloraine was on investigation, found to be untrue.

Parnell has at least one sympathizer in the person of his sister who takes to sneering at the virtue which has demanded his retirement from the leadership of his party. It is, however, worthy of note that it is no mere fanatic that has been foremost in this demand, but the possessor of one of the mightiest intellects that the world has ever seen. Parnell may have done much for the sake of Ireland, but there are men who have done infinitely more, and while he is the man to whom the greater part of the glory, with comparatively little sacrifice, has hitherto fallen, there is at least one person who has sacrificed much for the sake of Ireland. Had Mr. Gladstone not been anxious for the freedom of Ireland, instead of being in the opposition during these last years, he might have been prime minister of Great Britain. Under these circumstances those who sneer at the virtue which objects to an adulterer being leader of the Irish party, give clear evidence that it is not the freedom of Ireland, but the glory of Mr. Parnell that is of the highest consequence to them.

There are fears that the copyright bill will drift on the rocks in the United States Senate. Some of the senators want to move amendments which would have to go back to the House for adoption, thus throwing the bill once more into the hands of the Philistines. If copyright carries it will be the first tribute the legislators have paid to international obligations for many a long day.

Mexico has a new tariff under consideration, and proposes to give Major McKinley ut rat by raising the duties on United States products in order to be in a position to have something to exchange when making a bargain with its northern neighbour. This is not exactly Mr. Blaine's idea. He thought the United States would do the duty raising, and get reciprocity by taking off these imposts, but it seems that one, at least, of the other republics believes that two can play at the same game.

One European country has actually reduced one of two of its customs duties, namely, Denmark; but the British exporter will not rejoice, because the reductions are on sugar and petroleum, while a higher tax has been placed on beer. At the same time it is announced that Germany has erected a tariff wall of 5 percent duty around her African territories, and the British Indian merchants at Zanzibar who have already paid one duty are bitterly resenting the new impost. Such are the vicissitudes of the British free trader.

A notable instance of the loyalty of members of the Church of England to the memory of their eloquent divine, Cannon Liddon, is instanced by the fact that the promoters of the memorial have already received £10,000 of the £30,000 asked for, and there is every prospect that the whole of the sum asked for will be made up. The memorial fund to Cardinal Newman, another much admired Englishman, has not been so successful, and part of the original scheme has been abandoned the remaining features being the erection of a statue and the improvement of the Oratory Schools.

The prophets of a war in Europe, whose occupations have been gone for a season or two, are raising their heads once more with the beginning of a new year. It is alleged that Russia's military preparations are suspicious: technical training of the soldiers are being pushed actively, the military instructors rising at 5 a. m. even in the coldest weather: that the government has been buying large quantities of gold; that all the first-class fortresses on the western frontiers are being victualled to stand long sieges, and that three new brigades of light artillery are being formed.

GET A FLAG

FOR YOUR

SCHOOLHOUSE

The movement for having the Canadian flag on the schoolhouses, an anniversary of noted events in our history, is spreading rapidly throughout the Dominion and exciting the hearty approval of all patriotic citizens. Already has done its share in helping this movement by awarding a handsome flag to one school in each county of Ontario, but a number of inquiries from all parts of the Dominion as to how flags can be obtained by other means have determined the publishers of THE EMPIRE to offer a handsome of best bunting, 12 feet long (regular price $15), as a premium for 25 new yearly subscribers to THE WEEKLY EMPIRE at $1 per copy, or 50c for each new yearly subscriber to THE DAILY EMPIRE at 5c per annum, or a proportion of each, on subscription to Daily counting for FIVE WEEKS.

Every school in the Dominion ought to have a national flag, and this offer presents an opportunity for each obtaining it without cost, and with little trouble. Let those who are interested in getting a flag for their school-house join in getting up a club, and while the subscribers get full value for their money in the best newspaper in the Dominion, the school obtains a flag FREE OF COST.

The WEEKLY EMPIRE has recently been enlarged to twelve pages, and is now without doubt the best weekly newspaper in Canada, while the reputation of THE DAILY EMPIRE as the leading morning journal of the Dominion is well known.

Send for sample copies and special clubbing lists, and go in for a flag for your school. ADDRESS THE EMPIRE, Toronto
